Subject: SVEC concerns

Hi All,

In regards to the Corrective Action Plan, and the effort to thoroughly clean/decontaminate the school this summer, are you aware that the teachers and staff have been told to box up everything in their respective spaces so the rooms are empty, only to be returning those same items back into the space after the "cleaning" is done??? Is there some kind of protocol to get those items cleaned or not allowed to return into the environment? I understand that teachers and the school district have invested a lot of money into those items, but how are we to believe that those items will be free of contaminants? I know there is also plans to continue regular retesting throughout the upcoming school year, but it would be nice to know if there is anything that can be done to decontaminate those items before they are reintroduced. Can someone please address this concern of myself and several other parents?

Thank you,
